One literary definition of the word EPIC is a long narrative poem celebrating the great deeds of one or more legendary heroes, in a grand ceremonious style. Two of the most famous EPIC works are the Greek poet Homer’s Iliad and Odyssey which, among other things, follow the Trojan War and the later adventures of a heroic Odysseus.

In all EPIC stories, the hero, usually protected by or even descended from gods, performs superhuman exploits in battle or in marvelous voyages. For us, EPIC is really a metaphor for life itself and the great adventure it represents for us as human beings. Our travels, whether in work or play, are a fantastic way for us to experience the world and the people around us. Just think about what you experienced on your last trip, and what you may hope to experience on your next travel adventure!

EPIC Travelgear is the result of what our team of people, based in Gothenburg, Sweden, believe is the very best travel gear to get you to and from and through your adventure. We believe that keen observation combined with constructively used brainpower makes the difference between the fantastic and the mediocre. We believe that producing and consuming quality, long-lasting products is a choice that will help us to preserve and be able to enjoy our environment on a long-term basis.

We look at the products we produce with a real passion, and put all of our personal collective experience in traveling around the world, as well as the same from our friends, into producing the very best we can right here and now. We do it all with a Scandinavian twist on design and functionality, and a quality made to withstand the harsh conditions of the far north.

Innovation by design. Innovation very basically defined as an idea or concept that is new and better. An innovation can come to life and be expressed in surely more than a million ways. For us, it’s the twitch of an idea that the mind creates in the middle of the night, in the middle of a drive somewhere, waiting for a flight to leave, or maybe just in the shower. Sometimes there is a specific problem that we would like to solve, or a specific issue that we’d like to improve. The key for us is to just question what we and everybody else are doing, and try to find a better way. Obviously here, for our products, are issues such as weight, ease of use, and durability.

Whatever it may be, these ideas usually wind up on our drawing boards as lively discussions, written words, or often rough sketches on napkins or paper scraps. The great computer based tools that we have at our fingertips allow us to apply these ideas digitally, and in that way, do a lot more, more quickly, and create a platform for visualizing, manipulating, testing and adjusting before we actually make prototypes or go into production. This really allows us to refine and fine tune our original designs in order to be able to create an ultimately better, more innovative product.

WHICH CABIN SIZE IS THE BEST FOR ME?

Everyone is talking about it. It’s important. Figuring out the best size for your intended purpose can be a real nightmare, especially when you fly. That’s why we always recommend that you check with your carrier for specific details, but also why we’ve created some simple concepts in order to help you orient yourself in this jungle. Here below you will find the cabin size concepts that we use, and that you will find used throughout this catalogue.

SLIM™

This is a format concept that we’ve developed in order to meet the restrictions for cabin size enforced by the airlines, today, especially for low-cost carriers such as RyanAir, Air Berlin, Norwegian and more. The size format we use for SLIM is 55cm height, 20cm depth, and a width of approximately 35cm.

ULTRA SLIM™

This is a further refined cabin size concept that optimizes even the width of the case and gives us the maximum allowable dimensions of 55cm height, 40cm width, and, of course, 20cm depth. This is a size format that we use for many of our hard sided cases. We even make a 50cm high version of UltraSLIM in DiscoverY™ which is perfect for many domestic flights that further restrict the height of the case to 50cm.

ULTRA SLIM™ 45

45cm. Just like the SlimMAX 55 described above, SlimMAX 45 can be adjusted with its SpaceBOOST™ expander easily, and at will depending upon how and where you’re travelling, and how much kit you need onboard. The only difference is that the height and width are reduced to 45cm and 33cm respectively, making it the perfect choice for even the most restrictive airline carry-on. Of course, you can also order the SlimMAX 45 cm with where formats are allowed.

SLIM MAX™

SLIM MAX™ 45

45cm. Just like the SlimMAX 55 described above, SlimMAX 45 can be adjusted with its SpaceBOOST™ expander easily, and at will depending upon how and where you’re travelling, and how much kit you need onboard. The only difference is that the height and width are reduced to 45cm and 33cm respectively, making it the perfect choice for even the most restrictive airline carry-on. Of course, you can also order the SlimMAX 45 cm with where formats are allowed.

SLIM MAX™ 55

55cm. Bigger is often better. SlimMAX gives you the maximum of cabin allowable space in almost every situation. With its SpaceBOOST™ expander closed, it makes out at a perfect 50x40x20cm format. With its expander fully open it goes up to a 253cm depth, which is the maximum for most less restrictive carriers such as SAS. In other words, EPIC SlimMAX™ 55 is the perfect cabin size almost anywhere you go.

WIZZARD™

42cm. This is a cabin trolley specially designed for all of us who travel with Wizzair. Yes, it’s designed and built for a perfect fit on Wizzair! The size format we use for WIZZARD™ is 42cm height, 25/28cm depth, and a width of 32cm.

WHICH CABIN SIZE IS THE BEST FOR ME?

CABIN SIZE

This phrase describes any small size trolley case which is generally intended for airline cabin or onboard use. This basic format most often requires that the height of the case does not exceed 55cm, and that the sum of all dimensions do not exceed 115cm when added together. This format actually works for many airlines, and almost always works for train, boat and automobile travel.

CRATE™ REFLEX™
What are you dreaming about doing this spring and summer, this year, and for the rest of your life? We at EPIC are, for sure, dreaming about our dreams again now as the sun is coming back to us in the Northern Hemisphere. Yes, it’s been a long and lonely winter, but here comes the sun!

A tiny push for us to feel feelings and be a little more in touch with right here and right now is what our EPIC WILDLIFE concept is for and about. This season’s “album” is Tropical Paradise. The first single is the print, Tropical Paradise, followed up by a super hot Summer Heat, and the way laid back Summer Shade. We’re dreaming ourselves away to remote beaches with the ones we love and are falling in love with, umbrella drinks, the gentle touch of the warm sun and sand, and the warm cool breeze filling our hearts and lungs. Yeah, OK, and maybe even just a cooler urban jungle with a mindset centered on fun.

So... start dreaming with us and have more fun in 2017!

VTT™ is short for Variable Thickness Technology and is our unibody polypropylene shell and manufacturing process, and basically means that we can do, and have done, a lot of special small things with these shells in order to optimize strength and weight in a very tidy package. We really love polypropylene for its strength, its stability, and its elastic properties, but perhaps more than anything for the beautiful shapes, structures and rich details we can create with it. Polypropylene used to be a heavy, boring, but very stable material. With the help of some EPIC energy and our VTT process it is now lightweight, dynamic, and still very stable. All EPIC® VTT™ cases are also equipped with our awesome EPIC® FullARMOR™ warranty. EPIC® VTT™ Unibody polypropylene outer shell material is used on PhantomSL™ and Airwave VTT™.

PHANTOM™
EPIC® AIRWAVE VTT™ - MADE LIGHTER AND STRONGER TO FLY FARTHER WITH EASE.

It’s an all new, but classic piece of luggage with a modern ultra lightweight design, and all of the functions you’d expect for convenient and secure travel. What we mean is that it’s like listening to Mozart on a big-wattage, kick-ass sound system while relaxing in a flotation tank.

Airwave VTT’s design is unique, and it’s shape adds strength and stiffness. The shell is made from easily recyclable 100% polypropylene. This material (polypropylene) is known to be highly elastic as well as highly impact and fatigue resistant, but usually products made with it are quite heavy. Our product’s unique design actually manages to incorporate all of the advantages of this uniquely stable and dependable material while still achieving a low weight.

The very latest in developments for components also help keep Airwave VTT at its lightest, strongest, and smoothest. The wheels, and top- and side handles are made by Airspeed ensuring low weight, high performance, and long life. The wheels, one of the most important components on any high-performance luggage, are in themselves quite exceptional. They are our totally new Airspeed CarpetKing wheels. These CarpetKing wheels are exceptionally strong, and also provide unsurpassed flotation on almost any surface compared to anything we’ve ever used before!

EPIC Airwave VTT is proof that classics not only can be damn good, but get better all the time!

- Outer shell in our uniquely light, strong and elastic VTT™ unibody polypropylene material.
- Airspeed Carpeting wheel system for unsurpassed maneuverability and ease of transport compared with anything we’ve used before!
- All cases are equipped with an integrated TSA combination lock for less hassle during U.S. Travel.
- Fully-lined interior with divider and elastic packing straps for easier and more organized packing.
- All key components can even be replaced in the event that they become damaged or become worn out.

SIZE GUIDE

CLEAN AND COMPETENT INTERIOR
The weight of luggage remains an extremely hot topic. Besides the fact that extra “dead weight” is tiring and more difficult for you to transport, airlines are increasingly strict about allowable baggage weight. This can make heavy luggage not only cumbersome, but also expensive. For these reasons, we’ve made it a point to make EPIC Quantum (4X) one of the lightest trolley cases in the world, but we didn’t stop at that.

We’ve worked very hard to make EPIC Quantum (4X) lightweight through working on the details of the materials, the components and how they’re put together, and not by sacrificing function or durability. We want you to enjoy the function, feel and durability of the case despite the fact that it is so light.

At the heart of this lightweight and rugged design is our revamped EPIC airFRAME chassis. This lightweight and strong frame is clothed by specially selected textiles, and some of the latest in lightweight luggage componentry. The whole package is put together in a thoughtful and elegant way making EPIC Quantum a natural choice to keep you flying smoothly for a long, long time!

- Extremely lightweight and durable design featuring airFRAME chassis.
- Airspeed (4X) wheel system with offset on the front in order to maximize stability.
- Fully-optimized ultraSLIM Cabin trolley format (55x38x20cm in this case) maximizes packing volume while being accepted on virtually all flights and airlines including low cost carriers.
- The (4X) wheel system on this trolley is very lightweight, durable and quiet.
- SpaceBOOST Expander function gives added packing volume on demand (M and L sizes).
- All cases are equipped with a fully integrated TSA combination lock.
